COLUMBIA KATE'S TEAHOUSE

Fresh. Local Ingredients. Scratch Made.

22727 Columbia Street • Columbia CA • 209-532-1885 • Est. Feb 1st, 2007

OPEN DAILY: 11AM-4PM

Clare Bazley

A few short years later, on February 1, 2007, Clare Bazley opened Columbia Kate's Teahouse and in honor of Katy's guiding influence, named it after her. Katy loved the apricot scones served at Sierra Gold, but was always disappointed when they were sold out of them. Apricot scones are still the most popular scones we bake and we try very hard to never run out.

Under Clare's ownership, the Teahouse has become what Katy imagined – a warm, hospitable respite offering the finest foods and teas. Sadly, we lost Katy to cancer in 2008 but her legacy lives on as the standards she set guide us to this day.

KATE'S STORY

On the site of an 1850's French Bakery in the restored gold rush town of Columbia, California sits a red barn built by town icon Frank Dondero in the 1890's. Over the hundred or so years since, the red barn has been many things to many people. To one Kathryn (Katy) McMahon, the Sierra Gold Tea Company was a place of warmth and comfort where she made memories with her young son in the very early part of this century.

When the sisters who owned the teahouse let Katy know they were retiring and closing the teahouse she did the only thing she could do – she bought it from them that day. Sierra Gold Tea Company closed in October of 2003. From that day forward Katy shared her dream of the Teahouse continuing in Columbia with her friend, Clare Bazley of Southern California.
